Dr. Seymour is assisted in his work by noted specialists.

No matter how remarkable or even wonderful the skill of any specialist or scientist may prove, there are always a number of "Wise Acreers" who deride all progress. If it is beyond their immediate comprehension, it is for this reason that Dr. Seymour has gone to such particular pains to place proof positive in the hands of those who are interested in his work in behalf of their own condition.

The above letter was given to Dr. Seymour three years ago, and in addition to the simple statement made here the following interview occurred since his return to this city.

Mrs. Ruten called upon him for the purpose of expressing her sincere gratitude and to assure him that time had strengthened their confidence in his wonderful ability to relieve such serious conditions heretofore pronounced incurable. She said, in part: "Words can not express my appreciation for what you have done for my boy James; he is now nearly 12 years of age and will soon enter the High school. His eyes are very much improved and had it not been for your skillful treatment" and the wonderful glasses that you gave him he never would have been able to have accomplished his work in school. He has fought many battles for you, as you doubtless understand human nature well enough to know that because you were not here to defend yourself that many inferior doctors, and even specialists, derided the idea that his glasses and treatment could be any different than the ordinary kind, or that you were able to do more for him than any specialist in Houston, but the facts of the case are that I had taken him to every eye specialist that I knew of and all had pronounced his case hopeless.

"Having a daughter with a similar trouble, I fully intended to have you treat her before you left, but being unable to do so, I secured glasses from another specialist, but they have never accomplished the purpose for which they were intended, and, in fact, she has steadily grown worse, and I shall bring her to you just as soon as possible to have you treat her."

HOUSTON, TEXAS, March 12 1890.
Dr. W. L. Seymour, (Care Capitol Hotel, Chgo.)
Dear Doctor:-We seem to be rather an unfortunate family in regard to eye troubles, and since you have done so much work for us which has proved so very satisfactory, it is with pleasure that I recommend your skill.
Having tried various oculists in Chicago and St. Louis and other large cities before coming here, and never finding relief, I hereby make you a recommendation in hope of your doing me any good, but to my great delight I have been greatly benefited by a single application of your remedy, and am now able to see as well as I am supposed to those of any eye specialist
in the South.
My little boy has also been very much improved for myself, I am certain that the glasses you made for me have been the means of saving the sight of one of my eyes. Wishing you abundant success, I am, yours very truly,
GEO. W. SCOVILLE,
812 Houston Avenue.

HOUSTON, TEXAS, Feb. 11, 1899.
Dr. W. I. Seymour, Houston, Texas.
Dear Doctor:—I want to thank you for what your treatment with glasses has done for me, but I can not do justice to it in this latitude. Being now well advanced in years, reading had become my chief pleasure in life, but failing sight had ruined it. I had been for some time unable to get glasses that would help me, and had become very much discouraged as I could find nothing that would do the trick. I finally came to you, and you were able to give me glasses that were totally useless. In fact, I considered it a blind eye; and my right was fast becoming useless also. I am now able to read and write as I did. I am expressing my sympathy for my falling vision and tried to brighten my life.

I felt that I was fast growing old, which I think now must have been largely due to my eyes, but since I have been treated by you and received glasses, which make me see better than I have for thirty years past, I feel that I have been able to read fine print with my left eye, which I supposed to be blind, and to receive proper glasses, am now able to read as well as I did twenty years ago. Every day adds to the improvement, and in a short time I shall have attained, through your assistance, sight far better than the average person of my age can.

I realize that there are many people in this city who may be suffering as I was,

Mr. Ransom again called on Dr. Seymour, and while we are sorry to say he is not in his usual good health physically, he still retains the confidence of his friends. Dr. Seymour as his benefactor. It has only been possible for Mr. Hanson to gain good reading system by using two pair of glasses at a time. It has been the general opinion in the past three years, under Dr. Seymour's treatment, that it is now possible to give him as good sight with a single pair of glasses as he formerly had with the two pair.

Mrs. F. E. Jones of 2405 Austin street, wife of one of Houston's prominent wholesale merchants, who was one of Dr. Seymour's former patients, writes herself as one of his appreciative patrons, and has asked me to give her name as reference to those who may be thinking of consulting the doctor in regard to their eyes.

Miller of Beaville, 1:12, second prize, $25.
Tonight the streets are crowded, and everybody seems greatly interested in affairs. No accidents or lawlessness have been practiced, and the whole affair has proven successful and a creditable fair and carnival.

C. Y. WHITAKER KILLED.
Thrown from a Horse on His Ranch Near

San Angelo.
Marlin, Texas, November 25.—Marlin was shocked this morning when telegraph
information was received here that J. Whitaker had been charged murder and killed on his way to Angelo. For many years
Whitaker efficiently headed successful gas in this county. His students and popular here. He was paid to dispose of some property.
